VLADIVOSTOK THE SCENE OF A REVOLT

Government Has Been Appealed to Put Down Trouble in Russian Capital—Trouble in Transcaucasia

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says that 24,000 Georgians, armed with modern rifles, hold Georgia, Transcaucasia, despite the fact that three important Russian forces are converging thereon and except for the forerunners Georgia has been completely isolated for many days. No confirmation from any source confirms the correspondent's sensational story.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg to Reuter's Telegram company, dealing generally with the gradual pacification of the provinces, gives a report from Tiflis that General Malama, deputy governor of the Caucasus, and General Veldenbaum have been sent to Georgia to re-establish order there.

A Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post reports that blood has been shed in an insurrection at Vladivostok and that foreign residents there are asking for warships for their protection.

BRUTE BEATS UP HIS FORMER WIFE

Albert Buncel Breaks Into Home at Midnight and Assaults Mrs. P. J. O'Keefe at Residence on Sixth Street

Mrs. P. J. O'Keefe, while in her home on Sixth street, between Lake and Center streets, shortly before 12 o'clock last night, was attacked and brutally beaten by her ex-husband, Albert Buncel. Whether the man was intent upon murder is not known, for before he could complete his purpose Mrs. O'Keefe with her two children, the eldest scarcely more than ten years of age, escaped, and running to the police station gave an alarm. Ten minutes later Buncel, together with his brother, R. L. Buncel, was found standing near the house and placed under arrest by Officers Trembly and Elder. Later he deposited $20 cash bail, promised to remain away from the house and was released. His trial will come up today. Perhaps a serious charge will be lodged against him. It is also probable that Judge Pollock will be given an opportunity of imposing the penalty the crime of wife beating provides in Nevada. Mrs. O'Keefe is suffering from a painful cut on one side of her face, while her eye last night showed the effects of blows.

From the statement she made it apepars that Buncel came to her house and demanded admission. She refused and he broke in the rear door and proceeded to beat her.

It appears that the couple were divorced about five years ago, the court requiring that the husband pay for the support of their two children. Since that time the woman has married Mr. O'Keefe and states that she came here from Sacramento a few weeks ago to get her children. She planned to return at once to her husband at Sacramento. Buncel states that while he was in Goldfield Mrs. O'Keefe wrote and asked to return to him. For the sake of the children he states he sent the woman money to pay her fare from the state of Washington to Reno, where he wanted her to live and care for the children. Instead, he states, she went to Goldfield. He could not get a house there and, giving her $50, sent her back to Reno, where she rented a house about one month ago. He further stated that he has been stopping at the house for the past three weeks; that when he demanded admittance last night his wife refused, after which he broke in the door and was attacked by the woman.

SUDDEN END OF A PROMINENT CONTRACTOR

The remains of J. H. Smith, superintendent of the Utah Construction company, who died at Fallon Sunday morning, were brought to Reno yesterday. Relatives from Portland met the body here and will return with it to Portland, where the funeral will take place.

FIRE OF MYSTERIOUS ORIGIN DESTROYS CATHOLIC CHURCH CAUSING A LOSS OF $12,000

WHILE fierce flames destroyed St. Mary's Church yesterday and devoted members risked their lives to save sacred sacraments and statues, a rainbow bowed itself above the doomed structure. An arch of hope it was, and on the spray it appeared an omen of reassurance. For long after all its supports had fallen, the cross, symbol of life in death, loomed over the flames on the cupola above the brazen bell.

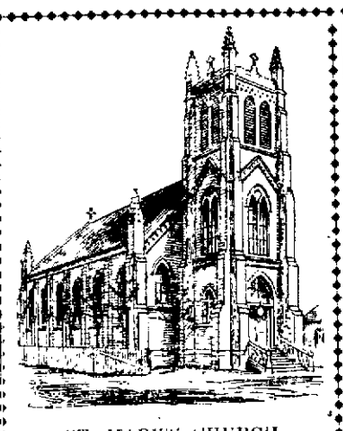

Yesterday a substantial edifice, magnificent with its altar, candles, draperies, chalices and statues, today a complete mass of smouldering ruins.

St. Mary's Catholic church, corner of Lake and Sixth streets, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

The cause of the fire has as yet not been determined. The insurance carried by the London, Liverpool and Globe Company amounts to $5000. The estimated value of the edifice was $12,000, with contents aggregating about $1500. Excepting the two organs, valued at about $1000, one the property of the church and the other that of Mrs. Anna Sunderland, nearly everything which was movable was fortunately saved from the merciless flames. The three beautiful cathedral glass memorial windows, St. Agnes' window, provided by the society of that name at a cost of $125; the Patrick Henry memorial window, in memory of the prominent lumber man, valued at $200, and the one placed to the memory of Father Kiely, the departed priest fifteen years ago, at a cost of $150, might have been saved, but were not, in the excitement of the hour.

Several active in the work of the church stated that a larger and more imposing structure will speedily rise from the ashes of this ill-fated one, but probably not upon the same site, it having long been the desire of Father Tubman, who is absent in Europe, to be located in a more central portion of the city.

At exactly 1:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon Hallie Updike, a university student, came from his classes in Stewart hall out upon the campus of the university, about two blocks distant from the church. In the distance from his elevated position he immediately caught sight of flames rapidly speeding heavenward from the belfry of the structure. Rushing to the university fire alarm box, No. 34, he quickly turned in the call to fire headquarters, and in company with F. L. Peterson, Lloyd Skinner, Leslie Elliott and Austin Cheatham, fellow students, rushed down to the scene of the conflagration. By this time the fire was discovered by Jack O'Sullivan and Mrs. Regilhoof across the street, who hastened to the rear entrance, the blaze, which rapidly assumed fierce proportions, being in the upper part of the belfry in the front of the church. O'Sullivan knocked in the door and by the aid of the students, who worked hard and fearlessly, and later by other volunteers, the movables were quickly hauled to a place of safety. The sacraments and the valuable heroic sized figures of Christ and the Virgin Mary, presented by Mrs. Butters some years ago, as well as all the vestments and altar appointments and carpets, were accordingly carried out just as the approaching flames and dense smoke neared the center of the church. It was a sad spectacle, as the members of the congregation and hundreds of spectators surrounded the building and watched with tearful eyes its being so rapidly consumed.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Fathers Kinney and Horgan were promptly on the scene from the parish house adjoining the church and rendered all possible assistance. The fire department, under Chief Webster made a quick run and fought the fire fearlessly, but it was evident the edifice was doomed to total destruction, being frame in character.

The bell fell with a crash, taking the forward part of the roof at the same time, at 2:05 o'clock. Several firemen were within a few feet of the spot, and a cry of horror went up from the crowd. In ten minutes the center of the roof caved in upon five of the firemen, but none were injured, barely escaping with their lives. Everyone was watching the cross, high in midair, at the rear of the church, as the flames reached it. At 2:35 o'clock the cross tottered and fell, amid the cry of the spectators.

Within two hours St. Mary's church was a pile of ashes. Father Horgan immediately notified the bishop, who will cable Father Tubman, in charge of this parish.

The consensus of opinion is that the fire ignited in the upper part of the belfry, though F. L. Peterson, who was among the first to rush into the building, says that he saw bright flames in the roof rafters in the center of the church through cracks in the ceiling. Of this Mr. Peterson is

SHOOTS AT FRIEND BUT DENIES ANY GRUDGE

CARSON CITY, Nov. 13.—By a miracle C. S. Emerson escaped being killed by Fred Short of Virginia City, who fired four shots at his point blank while driving from Virginia City with the intended victim Sunday night.

None of the bullets took effect except one, which struck Emerson on an angle and glanced along his shoulder blade, inflicting only a superficial wound.

Short tonight denies all recollection of the affair and says he has no grudge against Emerson. The cause of the shooting is still a mystery and no charge has as yet been made by Emerson.

FINLAND SOLDIERS IN OPEN REVOLT

HELSINGFORD, Finland, Nov. 14.—A revolt broke out yesterday at the garrison of Sveaborg. Hundreds of men assert they have been retained with the colors from two to three years beyond the legal period of their service. They also complain of their conditions of life.

Mutineers refused to obey orders, expelled civilians from the precincts and fortress and in several barracks they threw beds, chairs and kitchen apparatus out of the windows. They then opened negotiations with General Kalgarodeff, governor of the bylands, who promised them a remedy for their grievances, and said he would give them easier terms of service. There was no bloodshed.

WILL EMPLOY AN ARCHITECT OF NOTE

Designer of Stanford University Buildings Secured to Plan Large Hotel at Steamboat Springs

Charles E. Hodges, the world famous architect of the Leland Stanford Junior university, will plan the buildings for the proposed sanitorium and hotel at Steamboat Springs, ten miles from Reno.

This startling piece of news was confirmed yesterday and it is only a question of a few days when the noted architect-artist will be in Reno to look over the country and acquaint himself with conditions which he will blend into his conception of proper and beautiful buildings.

For about a year and a half M. J. Curtis, a local architect, has been working on the plans under the orders of Colonel J. W. Hopkins, principal owner in the corporation which will construc the resort. Thousands of dollars have been expended, said Colonel Hopkins last night in reproducing the drawings made by the architect and in sending them broadcast over the country. Many paintings were also made of the exterior of the buildings. "But I turned them all to the wall that were within reach," said the colonel last night; "the plans have been abandoned and will be done all over again.

"The springs," he continued, "will be adorned by the work of one of the most noted men in architecture. There will be nothing too good for the place. We have the highest mineralized water in the world gushing from the earth, and there is no reason why the place should not establish itself as a resort for people all over the world.

"That is why we decided to abandon the original plans and get the services of Mr. Hodges.

"The work will proceed at once. I expect the architect to be here in a very few days. There will be no further delay. The money is at hand; the place is there, and soon Reno will boast of the completed Steamboat Springs.

"Here is a part of the answer I received today from Architect Hodges: 'I should be very pleased to get out the plans and think I could please you with an artistic building.'

"I think he can," concluded the colnel, with emphasis on the word "he."

JUDGE GIVES WARNING TO WIFE BEATERS

Mrs. McCormick, wife of John McCormick, failed to appear in Judge Pollock's court yesterday against her husband, who she accused of beating her. The man was released, but the judge admonished him that if he appears again on a similar charge he will be given punishment provided by the statutes, viz, he will be tied to a post and placarded "Wife-Beater."

SAILORS OF TWO NATIONS HOLD LOVE FEAST

Twenty-five Hundred British and American Tars Join in Rousing Banquet on Bowery at Coney Island

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The famous saying, "blood is thicker than water" never found a more impressive expression than it did tonight at a dinner on the Bowery at Coney Island which enlisted men of the first squadron of the United States Atlantic fleet gave to the enlisted men of the second cruiser squadron of his British majesty's navy, commanded by Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenburg.

It was the keynote for cheering with which 2500 British and American sailors made the great pavilion ring. At the center of a long table, looking down the hall, sat Rear Admiral Evans and Rear Admiral Prince Louis. To the right was Admiral Evans and beside the prince were Rear Admiral Dickens, Rear Admiral Brownson, Captain Pierce, Colonel Thompson, Captain Dare, Captain Arnold. To the left of Admiral Evans sat Percy Sanderson, British consul general at New York, Rear Admiral Davis, Captain Farquhar, Commissioner of Police McAdoo, Captain Emery, Captain King Hall, Captain Tilley and Captain Ryan.

The band played a medley of popular sailor songs, while the 2500 sailors were being assigned seats, which was done without the slightest confusion.

Another evidence of their discipline came when for nearly an hour they sat patiently while the prince, Admiral Evans and other officers arrived in six special cars.

The dinner tonight was a return courtesy for the entertainment which the men of the American squadron received when in England several years ago.

CARELESSNESS CAUSES DEATH

Laborer in Gravel Pit is Killed After He Had Ignored Repeated Warnings

A coroner's jury decided last night that the death of Pedro Dabila, who was killed by falling earth, being caught under rock and gravel in the N—— pit yesterday morning, was due to his own carelessness. The verdict was as follows:

"We find that death was due to his own carelessness and was caused by a bank of rock and dirt caving upon him in gravel pit two and a half miles west of Reno. The jury was S. S. [illegible], foreman; Henry Russell, [illegible] Logan, P. B. Smith, Theodore Z[illegible], C. C. Thomas.

According to the testimony brought out last night, it seems that Dabila was working under an embankment which threatened to cave in. He was warned by the superintendent, R. H. McConnell, who twice cautioned him. An hour or so after he had been warned for the last time the entire [illegible] caved in, burying the unfortunate man under the crushing rocks.

Coroner Real was immediately notified and the body taken to the undertaking establishment of Perkins, Oliver & Gulling, where the inquest was held.

Dabila was not well known here, having only recently come from San [illegible] Potosi, Mexico. It is not known whether he was married.

The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the undertaking parlors and the remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery.

WILL STILL GO AFTER CANINES

Dog-catcher Scales Given Chance by City Council to Put Up a Cash Bond

Perhaps the most interesting piece of work done last night at the meeting of the city council was that which gives the poundman another chance. Dog-catcher Scales was unable to get a bond. The law requires a $500 surety from a reliable surety company. But Scales has had so much fame in connection with his business as canine catcher that he could not get a bond. Last night City Attorney Stoddard was instructed by the city council to amend the ordinance, covering the case, so as to permit Scales to furnish a cash bond of $100, which Scales will put up himself.

So he is still Dog-catcher Scales.

It was decided to place an arc light at the corner of First and Sierra streets. Another light will be placed at the V. & T. railroad crossing. The latter was requested by Charles Burke, who agreed to stand half of the expense of maintaining the light for the first year.

A petition was read asking that a sewer be placed on Park avenue and Lander street. It was referred to the street committee. Another petition was read from F. Voghotti begging the couenil to grant him till next April to comply with the sidewalk ordinance. This was granted.

Dr. M. Pritchard was given permission to lay a water pipe from the Orr ditch down Chestnut avenue to Eighth street.

There is an effort being made to open an alley in block 7 of the Western addition, from Vine street to Washington. The matter was referred to the street committee for a report. Another petition was also referred to the same committee asking that Pine street be widened from thirty feet to sixty. The street as it now is, is little more than an alley. The thirty additional feet will have to be condemned and acquired by the city.

The city treasurer's report was read showing a balance in the general fund after all bills had been paid of $9364.07. Police Judge Richardson's report was also read. It shows an income from fines and forfeited bail of $661. Of this sum, $495 was received from fines for disorderly conduct.

ADMITS PASSING BOGUS CHECKS

Durkee After Cashing Forged Paper is Caught and Wires His Mother for Help

W. L. Durkee, an electric lineman, was arrested Sunday night for passing forged checks. He admits his guilt, but says that he did not know what he was doing. A few days ago, he says he received word that his baby boy had been killed in a street car accident at Napa. He took to drinking and when he ran out of funds began acquiring money by the bogus check route. The Owl saloon cashed one for $15; the Clarendon one for $20; he got $10 on another at the Oberon; Becker's saloon took another check from him for $16 and the Elite parted with $15. On all of them he signed the name of Blaine Grey.

To the latter, Blaine Grey, he admitted his guilt and told him what he had done and wired his mother at Napa to make up the amount.

The money came from his mother yesterday morning and he has been taking up his checks.

An individual, who signed the name of Whitmore, has been signing bad checks, too. He managed to pass one on Harry Heidtmann in the Becker saloon, but it is uncertain how many more he worked off.

The police are looking for Whitmore.

AN ACCIDENT IS BARELY AVOIDED

positive. Louis Seitz, electrician for the electric company, it is reported showed several the switch, indicating that all power was turned off. On Friday and Saturday the old gas piping was being removed from the belfry by some plumbers, and no fire was in the stove, it is said, since Sunday. One theory which has considerable claim to recognition is this. Some months ago the choir was accustomed to practice in the base of the belfry and, as stated by one of the number yesterday, matches were seen lying about. That these matches remained up there and mice ignited them is not beyond the pale of reason. The actual cause may never be known.

Mrs. Susan Alt of Glendale, who is one of the oldest members of this church, was present yesterday. Mrs. Alt said: "Our first church was erected in 1867, the year the railroad entered Reno. That company donated the lot in the rear of the old convent now the Hotel Nevada on Lake and Fourth streets. Father Lavelle was in charge. Mr. James Sullivan, Mrs. P. J. Kelly, Peter Dalton, Judge Haydon and myself were the first members and the only Catholics then here. In 1879, during the big fire here, the church was destroyed and with the failure of the bank we were not able to build again to completion for about two years. Father Raffee, an Italian, was here then. In 1881 this church was completed, and Father Grace, now bishop, was one of those in charge. The present Father Tubman came here in October last year. Father Kinney having charge now during Father Tubman's absence. Father Vasse, president of the Jesuit college at Santa Clara, and Bishop Montgomery bought a lot where the N. C. O. shops are now located, intending to erect a college for boys, but the [illegible] came and the lot was sold for $1000."

The present congregation numbers over 2000.

While the church fire was in progress a call came for the department to hurry to the residence of Jim Sullivan of the Reno Mill and Lumber Company at 705 Center street, a couple of blocks away. Sparks had set the house on fire. Mrs. Johanna Gooten on [illegible]. Quick work of a bucket brigade saved the house. The hose was not needed. The damage is estimated at about $100.

An amusing incident during the fire was created by the appearance of Mr. Michael [illegible] upon the roof of his home across the street. With a small garden hose and a stream of water that was hardly visible the old gentleman was industriously trying to dampen the roof to prevent its catching fire from flying sparks. At the same time his wife was seen to pour a pitcher full of water over the porch roof, and while so doing got the benefit of the stream from the hose in her husband's hands around the turn of the house. The crowd yelled in its amusement.

All the girls will be there. Where? At the Modern Woodmen's ball Thursday night, of course. Are you in? $1 admission includes hat check and banquet. n14-1t

MONEY SENT TO PAY BILLS

Judgment Against the Olinghouse Properties Will be Paid When Sale Takes Place

The judgment secured some time ago against the Olinghouse mines is to be satisfied, probably today. The property is now advertised as for sale to meet the judgment. The parties who are negotiating the purchase, it is understood, yesterday morning received a telegraphic money order for the amount involved and will meet the bill today. It is stated that it will require about $3000 to pay the claims.

The deal is still progressing and in all probability the final payments will be made this week.

EXPERT DESIGNER ARRIVES IN RENO

For the next ten days the people of Reno will have the unusual opportunity of consulting with Mr. Frank J. Willard, John Breuner Co.'s expert on the arrangement of interior furnishing and decorations.

Mr. Willard has had many years experience in drapery designing. His success is due particularly to originality. Of the thousands of homes that have been furnished under his personal direction—no two interiors have been arranged alike.

Mr. Willard will be at the Breuner's Reno store for the next week or ten days, and will be pleased to offer suggestions on any interior work you may have in mind—will draw up a set of original plans, etc. There is no charge for this, it is the compliments of the John Breuner Co.

The Journal suggests to its readers that they avail themselves of this unusual opportunity of gaining new pointers about home furnishings.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Than of All Others Put Together

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine, as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by all druggists.

Otto Heizer, a graduate of the Nevada University, who has been in Alaska for several months, arrived in Reno last Sunday.

In Addition to the Present High Class Attractions Many Others Are Billed for the Near Future

Louis Lawrence the world's champion trumpeter is the chief attraction at the Grand this week. Mr. Lawrence is without doubt master of his instrument and the work which he does is nothing short of marvelous. The audience was held spellbound last night and Lawrence was compelled to respond to several encores.

A team of [illegible] also gained the approval [illegible] by wonderful performances on wheels. The tricks were all new and original.

The moving pictures are also up to the standard [illegible] somewhat [illegible] last night [illegible] of several of the performers being delayed by railroad [illegible]. The full bill will be [illegible] this evening.

SOCIETY GIRLS.

One of the best burlesque organizations on the road comes to McKissick's opera house Thursday evening.

Its title is the Washington Society Girls and they are under the tutelage of Hughey Kernan and W[illegible] of the best producers in the country.

Thoroughly [illegible] with new scenery and brilliant expensive costumes there is a big bunch of show girls that it would be difficult to out class in the ordinary traveling company. They have been selected not only as to grouping and dancing effects but also for their physical attributes and ability to act. But with all the brilliancy of the ensemble has small effect in the general excellence of the entertainment.

There is a big bunch of comedians who have a distinctive idea as to the value of action and situation in laugh[illegible]

The opening play is called "Oh What Joy" and it [illegible] is truly indicative of opportunity presented for uproarious hilarity.

"UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES"

[illegible] Southern Skies which appears in this city on Monday evening November 20th is one of the series of plays by Lottie Blair Parker which portray life in different sections of our country. The first depicting New England life was called "Way Down East." The second, "Under Southern Skies" was first copyrighted as "Way Down South." It was produced in London at Messrs. Gatti & Frohman's theatre on October [illegible] 1901 until the caption "Way Down South" to "Under Southern Skies." It was [illegible] "Under Southern Skies" has [illegible] to be used [illegible] as sub-titles and not so much in favor as a single name.

Under Southern Skies now stands [illegible] as a picture of southern [illegible] Mrs. Parker is thoroughly [illegible] the people their customs and manner of thought and one of her [illegible] has been southerners. Mrs. Parker says that Under Southern Skies has a foundation in fact [illegible] based upon the romantic history [illegible] these friends. Perhaps it is [illegible] the play that is given such vital [illegible] But [illegible] the fact remains that Under Southern Skies is one of the best paying attractions on the road today.

[illegible] enthusiastic audiences [illegible] season has been enjoying greater [illegible] than ever. An unusually large cast twenty six [illegible] on the [illegible] of the play the stage settings [illegible] scenes in the [illegible] Halloween [illegible] produced [illegible] of the kind [illegible] the stage.

WIRES DID NOT CAUSE THE FIRE

So Says W. G. Caffrey in Discussing Origin of the Big Blaze Yesterday

In the first place who says they know that electric wires caused the fire? Second how did he [illegible] for generally speaking wires are concealed. I had nothing to do with the wiring of the church but I am satisfied that the [illegible] the wiring knew how to wire a building to prevent such an occurrence.

Perhaps something the party who made the statement don't know is that it [illegible] so correct that a fire is impossible and I publicly defy anyone to prove to the con[illegible]

The Catholic church fire was [illegible] before the alarm was sent [illegible] consequently before the department [illegible] Then [illegible] to get them [illegible] to [illegible] the origin [illegible] and it was [illegible] found it after it was [illegible] should [illegible]

Team May Play in Los Angeles

Arrangements Now Under Way for a Contest With St. Vincent's College on Thanksgiving Day

Negotiations are now under way with St Vincent college of Los Angeles for a game of football to be played at Los Angeles on Thanksgiving day. A communication was sent to the manager of the St Vincent team several days ago asking what inducements that college would offer for a game on turkey day. No reply has been received as yet but it is believed that suitable arrangements will be made and that the game will be played. In case the game is scheduled the big team will again go into training in order to be in good shape. The St Vincent team is said to be quite strong this year having made a good record with other teams in southern California. A game between the two teams should draw a large crowd at Los Angeles. The Nevada eleven has been seen before in Los Angeles having met the Sherman Indians last year. The Nevada boys were defeated but created a good impression with the football enthusiasts of Los Angeles.

WEATHER OFFICE IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The meteorological bureau is now open for business in the Thorne building, and hereafter the Journal will publish daily the weather forecasts and other climatic news which will be issued from the new offices.

From the flag staff on the top of the building will float the signal flags. The fair weather signal is a square white flag, rain or snow is indicated by a flag of blue. Local rain or snow is also a square flag, but the field is divided into a white and blue strip. The temperature flags is triangular and black; the cold wave signal is a black square on a square white field.

The temperature triangular signal is not use alone, but in conjunction with the other signals indicates a degree of colder or warmer weather, according to the position of the flags.

H. F. Alps is manager of the local office and says he will be pleased to furnish those desiring them with cards explaining the weather system of signals.

Among the appliances now installed are the thermometers, under shelter, the tipping bucket or self-recording rain gauge; the wind vane, anemometer, which measures the wind velocity, the wind vane and a delicate electric sunshine recorder. All this apparatus is connected by the office with a triple register which records the various conditions as they are indicated by the mechanism on the top of the building.

CONDEMNATION FOR USE OF "RINGERS"

Custom of Putting Team Not Composed of College Men on Gridiron Censured By Former Football Captain

(By Cassius Smith, Nevada Commissioner Pacific Athletic Association.)

With the closing of the football season at the University of Nevada it can be safely said that a spirit of reform has been instilled into the athletic teams of the institution. A reformation that in past years has been sadly absent has now found its way to the hearts of the wearers of the Sage N and never again will "ringers" be allowed to represent Nevada in any athletic contest. The Nevada representative team this year was composed of college men. It was composed of a sturdy bunch who are attending the college with the object in view of some day joining the ranks of the alumni. They had their routine of duties to perform in addition to the strenuous work of preparing for the great gridiron struggles that occurred on distant fields across the Sierras. Only a limited amount of time can be devoted to practice by a team of students carrying on a full schedule of work. But when they do don the moleskin and fight for the honor of the university and state they are enjoying an honor; they are performing a duty that belongs exclusively to the college student, and this duty and honor should to him be held sacred.

The most demoralizing element that ever prevaded the athletic department of any institution of learning wherein college football is indulged in, is the so-called "ringer" or man who receives a compensation for his services during the season to participate in the games, or who may be induced to register simply as a blind in order to take the trip to California and play in the big games. When the season ends they leave only to be gathered in the following year. They are no credit to any college. They simply crowd from the teams the good university student—the man to whom the game belongs.

How sweet that 6 to 0 victory at the Leland Stanford university years ago would taste had the team been composed of college men. There was one ringer in that team. No one can deny that. How sweet that 6 to 0 victory over the university would taste had it been won with a pure college team. There was more than one ringer in that line up on the Nevada side.

But with the coming of Coach Rudolph, this element has been swept from the field and will remain away. Rudolph made a fair better record with his college team than many past coaches have made with their miscellaneous eleven. He has the interest of the university and of the state at heart, and this year when an effort was about to be made to secure the services of outside players, Coach Rudolph immediately set his stamp of disapproval upon such practice, and in so doing won for himself a reputation as a man fearless, courageous and intent upon doing the right as he sees it. He has stamped himself as a man who loves the great college game, and not only this, he has determined to lend his efforts to the cleaning of the game from what savors of professionalism—the ring of ringers. One of the most noticeable of the results of the inauguration of this movement was that every night he had out at practice three eleven and sometimes even more. And while some of these men were small, they all saw an even chance with their associates to make the first team, and responded willingly. In past years coaches have found considerable trouble in arousing enough interest to secure a second team. Men thought there was no use of trying to outplay an outsider whose sole purpose at the university was to play football and to nothing else. By taking this initiative step, Coach Rudolph bids fair to prove himself one of the best athletic directors that the University of Nevada has ever secured. He is a man who looks to the future—the up-building of the university, and the development of a better spirit among the college teams. He started this season with his college players, and has worked it through with his college players. The usual crop of ringers were on hand, but did not have a look in. They were cast aside. Few coaches have in them such a real sportsman spirit as to take that stand. Few coaches have the desire at heart to produce such beneficial, far-reaching results. In the future the Nevada University students should see that this important step is upheld. The game belongs to college men, individually and as a body, and never permit any one to play in the guise of a college man, or never permit any one to play who fails to represent the university as a student in good standing. It should be remembered that football as played by the big universities belongs to the students of that university, and should be played by them. Leave your ringers on the sidelines. They are of little value to any university, and are only a cheap tool that some coaches can make use of in carving out a personal reputation for themselves.

AUTO MAKES A RECORD RUN TO RENO

Dr. S. H. Crow, a well known dentist of Sierraville, made a record run to Reno in an automobile Sunday, covering the fifty-seven miles between Sierraville and this city in four hours and thirty minutes. Dr. Crow was accompanied by W. R. Sharkey, editor and proprietor of the Sierra Valley Record, and W. J. Dolley, a prominent merchant of Sierraville. The trip was made in a Cadillac tenhorse power machine. The party states that poor roads and broken badges delayed the party one hour. Otherwise not an incident marred the trip.

WHAT UNCLE SAMUEL REALLY OUGHT TO DO

Editor Journal:—Some of the gold bug fanatics are becoming alarmed at the increased production of gold and fear that congress will not legislate fast enough to protect the moneyed aristocracy in their "vested rights."

The long delay of enacting a law to retire the greenbacks and make the silver dollars redeemable in gold is very annoying to the frenzied financiers who receive their inspiration from Wall street, and it seems like an act of extreme cruelty to keep these nervous fanatics in continuous fear of impending calamity, by not giving them a decisive object lesson.

In place of retiring the greenbacks and making the silver dollars redeemable in gold, Uncle Sam should assert his power as sovereign and open the mints to the unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the old time ratio. Make the greenbacks a full legal tender and prohibit the demonetization of any kind of United States money by private contract.

The corrupt atmosphere of Wall street has demoralized the mental faculties of the financiers of that locality and they are entirely unfit to dictate the financial policy of Uncle Sam any longer.

In Time of Peace

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists.

Ewing said he wanted to take it back to Washington and make the president a gift of it.

ONLY GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE

"Hyomei Costs You Nothing If It Fails," Says The Cann Drug Co.

Among the many medicines upon the market that claim to cure catarrh none but Hyomei has enough faith in its own merit to offer to refund the money if it does not cure.

Hyomei is the only method of treatment that seeks by direct inhalation to the most remote parts of the air passages, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes permanent and complete cures of catarrh.

The complete outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime, and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Breathe Hyomei for a few minutes four times a day, and your catarrh will show better from the first day's use, and will be completely cured within a short time.

It is the only treatment for catarrh where you can get your money back from a local dealer. The Cann Drug Co. in case it does not help.

INTERESTED IN NEVADA'S MINES

C. Koch of California Is Spending Several Days in Reno With a View to Investing

C. Koch, an experienced mining man from Kern and Siskiyou counties, California, is among the recent arrivals in Reno. Mr. Koch is here with a view of looking over the different mining prospects adjacent to Reno, and is prepared to furnish capital for development work on any likely looking proposition.

Yesterday Mr. Koch inspected a property a short distance to the north of this city and his report may result in a sale that will surprise many that seem to think it necessary to go hundreds of miles in a desert land, indure all kinds of privations and almost take life in hand, in order to find a mine.

After a thorough investigation of the properties contiguous to Reno, Mr. Koch will make a trip to the southern part of the state.

"From what observations I have made during my brief stay here," said Mr. Koch, "Washoe county offers all kinds of inducements to mining men. "You have right at your doors, so to speak, some of the most wonderful formations I have ever seen and I have been in many of the leading mining states of the union.

"The ground has hardly been scratched over, much less prospected, and as soon as systematic work in this line is done look out for something phenomenal in the way of richness.

"There is no question in my mind but that a vast lode of high grade ore extends through the range of mountains immediately north and it is simply a matter of time until it will be revealed.

"You have magnificent chances here for milling purposes. Ten years hance you will see the Truckee river harnessed to dozens of mills grinding ore from the hills that are now thought worthless."

MINERAL IN NEVADA HILLS

Ore Is to be Found Everywhere and All That Is Required Is Development

Experience in the mining districts of Nevada and Southeastern California only emphasize the fact that with a single exception there is not a mountain range in the region named which is not highly mineralized, in fact the great dykes of porphyry and granites intruding prominently on the surface would be a sufficient warrant for the prospector to give them careful attention for that reason only, if for no other; yet enough exploitation work has been done to assure the continuance of the veins opened up and much the greater number of locations disclose enormous bodies of uniformly high grade ore.

It is proper to state that the exception is the Sierra Nevada range, which seems to lack that general mineralization encountered elsewhere, but eevn the lower foothills in that range have those characteristics recognized The Alabama range, on the eastern slope of the Sierras, has experienced quite a revival within a few years and by geologists as mineral bearing areas, for the first time is the scene of legitimate development and it is gratifying to note that the results are eminently satisfactory. Phenomenal surface values have been secured for a number of years and have attracted sufficient attention to induce a limited investment in a number of properties though the only real work has been done by the Mt. Whitney Gold Mining Company. J. W. Olney, manager, which has driven a 1100 foot crosscut tunnel that cuts the entire lode at a depth of 750 feet below the apex. This drift has uncovered in the breast a 2 foot shoot that carries 290 ounces in gold per ton. The formation is a porphyratic quartz, the porphyry predominating, at least this is the case on the east side of the range, but on the west immense granite dykes outcrop strong and are easily traceable for miles on the surface. This would indicate that the gold bearing zone is about three miles wide. Several corporations are advancing operations and the work to date is so favorable that it is only reasonable to anticipate good results from further development in this field. And while some work has been done in a desultory way for a number of years, the past two years has shown more permanent benefit than all former operations combined.

East, distant about five miles, and parallel with the Alabama, is the White Mountain range, sometimes called the Inyo range. The whole northern end of the range, in the vicinity of White Mountain Peak, shows a large granite out-crop, as does most of the range from Loehr Peak southward to Deep Springs valley. Still farther south a considerable area of granite rocks appear south of Waucobi Peak, while a small area, southwest of Saltnas valley, also on the centre of the range.

The principal work in this part of the White Mountain range has been done by the Nevada-Inyo Mining Co., which is controlled by Reno people, and G. A. Whiteford is manager. This property shows an immense body of free milling ore and disinterested mining engineers who have recently examined the property obtained samples carrying from $21 to $878 in gold per ton.

While it is not generally known it is true that Inyo county presents a strange phenomena in the fact that here is seen the highest mountain, (Mt. Whitney) in the United States and the greatest depression (Death Valley, 400 feet below sea level) and on an air line not over 70 miles apart. The elevation in Death Valley was taken at Bennett's Hole, the very lowest point in the valley, last winter, so named because one Bennett sunk a well only three or four feet and got water. A considerable area of the greatest depression is occupied by a great brown desert, which has the appearance of a newly plowed field in color and form and appears to be soft yet on closer examination the surface is found to consist of hard salt, rendered brown by a mixture of soil. Strange as it may seem, the deleterious effect of the algaline in the water is entirely destroyed by crushing up a small amount of the giant cactus which can be found all over the desert, and thrown into a pail of water. This pulp, in an hour, will be entirely incrusted in salt, and the water is thus comparatively pure. Nature made the alkali and nature furnishes a plant to purify it. This old lake was once fed by the Amargosa river and the latter has actually been known to be 200 feet wide at the southern end of Death Valley, although it is usually dry on the surface as far north as Ash Meadows. In the valley the thermometer ranges around 135 degrees during the day in summer, but the nights are generally cool as is the case in all desert regions.

It is claimed that it is not primarily a lack of water which places so many victims to the credit of desert districts, and there appears to be some reason for such theory, for men have been found dead with half a canteen of water beside them and certainly that would not be so if water only was desired. Many old desert rats think the intense heat drives men mad and then the result is necessarily fatal. Whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad, and yet there is oftimes method in the madness of those so afflicted for they do things so rational that it is hard to accept the theory of madness. A case in point happened near the head of Death Valley only last week when a painter named Neff, from Rhyolite, went prospecting. This man wandered in a circle and at one time was within half a mile of a good spring, but he took off his clothes, carefully folded them up and placed them and his canteen in a pile and walked off a few hundred yards and lay down to die.

Why this method in his very last moments? Indeed the mysteries of the desert are beyond mortal ken.

Again, we find that even the Indians who inhabit the desert are peculiar and the Mohaves are celebrated the world over. In '93 an Indian runner started from the Needles afoot with 40 pounds of quicksilver on his back, for El Dorado canyon, 90 miles distant and he made the trip between sun and sun, in October, or about 12 hours, and was again in the Needles within 36 hours. And it should be remembered that the whole country is one vast desert, yet the Indian made the trip without apparent special effort.

These Mohaves have no rival on the desert, but the Black Canyon Apaches, in Arizona, mountain Indians, are equally swift in the mountains, for they have, between sun and sun, run 120 miles, traveling faster than the best horses can go. Extraordinary adverse conditions seems to produce extraordinary ability in certain lines.

And the prospector, too, is not without his weak side, for it is not unusual for them after plodding the solitude of the desert for years to imagine that an effort is being made to poison them, and in this belief they fear friends as well as enemies. I know prospectors who will not eat a mouthful not prepared by themselves. And yet on every other subject they are entirely rational. It must be that continued hardship under a burning sun turns the brain of even the strongest man, for it indeed, seems impossible to withstand the terrible heat, and it is pertinent to add that a score or more have already lost their lives in the mad search for the Scotty mine and others no doubt must go.

A FORTUNE HANGS IN THE BALANCE

Rich Interests Involved in January Jones' Suit, Which Is to be Tried on Its Merits

An important decision in favor of the plaintiff was recently handed down by Judge Hawley in the case of January Jones versus L. L. Patrick et al, wherein Jones is suing for one-eighth of the famous Combination mine at Goldfield. By this decision a demurrer interposed by the defendants which sought to debar all evidence that went to prove the existence of a verbal agreement as to a partnership between Jones & Patrick was overruled, and the case will now come up on its merits at the next term of the United States Circuit Court at Carson City, Nevada.

The importance of this legal controversy between Jones and Patrick may be realized when it is known that the amount at stake is about $200,000. This sum represents the nominal market value of one eighth of the $20,000 issued shares of the Combination Mine Co. and should Jones win the suit, the dividends on the stock involved will add about $4,000 a month to his income.

Almost like the wonders of Alladin's lamp is the story of the evolution of the Combination mine, in a little over two years from a hilly area of sage brush to a fabulously rich gold mine, paying $32,000 monthly dividends or at the rate of $1.00 per month on each share of stock.

The claims comprising the holdings of the company, were located in the fall of 1903 by Al Meyers, and in November of the same year the property passed to Chicago capitalists on a bond of $75,000. Only $5,000 in cash was paid and the balance of the purchase price was supplied from the proceeds of the ore taken out of an 80 foot shaft.

It was through the efforts of January Jones and Patrick that the merits of this wonderful mine were first brought to the attention of capitalists and the eighth interest Jones seeks to recover represents his share of the profits of the flotation.

No better example of the tremendous appreciation in value of Goldfield's mines can be cited than this interest Jones seeks to recover. In November 1903, one-eighth of the Combination was worth $3,375 figuring on the basis of the original purchase price $75,000. Today $200,000 is the conservative valuation of same and in two and a half years $196,625 has been added to the original investment besides the dividends, which now amount each month to almost half of the total sum represented by the first investment.

The opinion of Judge Hawley includes some very complimentary remarks with regard to the presentation of the case by the attorneys for both sides, which is not often found in the opinion of Federal judges. Mr. Jones is represented by Haven & Haven and Harvey Yeaman. Attorney Key Pittman of Tonopah is looking after the interests of Mr. Patrick.

PYRAMID MINES LOOKING GOOD

Fred Gould Returns From Visit to Northern Washoe County With Excellent Reports

Fred Gould returned Friday evening from the Pyramid district, where he has installed a camp for doing assessment work on some promising claims in that vicinity in which he is interested.

Mr. Gould reports the northern section of the country quite lively and says that a number of prospectors and mining men are at work, some developing well known claims, others staking out new propositions, and still others doing preliminary assessment work in advance. He predicts a lively winter and spring in the country to the north.

Morgan John, well known in mining circles in Nevada, is among the recent arrivals from the west. He came up from the coast Friday, and after shaking hands with his hosts of friends here left yesterday morning for Gold Hill.

Mr. John left Gold Hill five months ago and visited his old home in Wales. It was his first visit in twenty years and he reports many improvements especially in Swansea, the greatest smelter town on the way.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church will give a New England dinner in the basement of the church on Thursday November 17th, from 4 until 7. Price 25c. nl11td

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Starts Republicans Thinking

THERE can be no question, says the Butte Miner, that the Republicans in the east were greatly surprised over the result of the elections this week. Newspapers now coming to hand express the greatest confidence in the success of the g. o. p. and one wonders what they had to say when it was over.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat last Tuesday morning said: "On the eve of the election to be held in various states and cities today, the indications point to a general Republican landslide."

There is no doubt the St. Louis paper, like many other organs of its party, believed that the Republicans had a walk-away.

They have had a horrible awakening and must feel that the victory in Missouri a year ago had been doubly discounted by the Democratic successes in Pennsylvania and Ohio this fall.

Doubtless the eastern Republican press, in discussing the late elections, will like the boy passing through the graveyard whistle to keep up its courage.

Without question there will be a renewal of the talk of forcing a third term upon President Roosevelt.

Compare last year's election returns with those of the present week, and the fact will be impressed upon the most casual observer that President Roosevelt is popular, but his party is not. This conclusion is going to give the Republicans a lot of thought before they get through with it, but they might just as well face the truth now, as they will have to do so later.

Still it is not believed that President Roosevelt will break his solemnly pledged word, no matter how the politicians of his party may try to make him do so, in an effort to bolster up their position. The indications are that the people want to get rid of the old Republican machines that have been running things in so many of the states, and they know they have the power to do it To many of the Republican leaders the result of the elections last Tuesday came like a thunderbolt from a clear sky.

They thought they were safely entrenched, and all at once they found that their fortifications had been assaulted and taken by the forces of the people. Their arrogance has received a severe rebuke.

Municipal Ownership Coming

ONE of the striking points of the result of the recent elections was the revelation of the strong hold that the idea of municipal ownership has acquired in the minds of the American people.

The most startling illustration of this condition of affairs was the immense vote polled by Hearst after a campaign of but three weeks. Tammany's perfect machine, backing a man who had given probably the cleanest and best administration ever given by a Tammany mayor, was unable to defeat a man without a party—a man whose only campaign cry was municipal ownership. And this result was achieved in a city where on the one hand is found the densest ignorance of, and indifference to, the civic obligations of a citizen and on the other, the most hidebound, pigheaded conservatism, and opposition to anything that savors of socialism.

Another striking illustration of the power of municipal ownership was the result in San Francisco, where Schmitz was elected mayor by an immense majority, in defiance of the combined opposition of the Democratic and Republican parties, and the fierce denunciation of three of the most widely circulated newspapers in the city. Schmitz's election alone did not altogether convey the idea of a desire on the part of the people of San Francisco for municipal ownership, but the election with him of a full board of supervisors of the Union Labor party indicated the wish of the people that, for one thing, he should have his hand strengthened in his improvement of the Geary street line, which was recently taken over by the city.

The election of Dunne as mayor of Chicago last year puts the two greatest cities of the country in line as demanding the same reform. As yet Dunne has been unable to accomplish anything, owing to the opposition of the city council, but indications point to a repetition of the San Francisco affair—Dunne re-elected with a board of councilmen to support him.

Even in towns as small as Reno—in Reno itself, in fact—there is growing up and becoming emphatic a strong demand for municipal ownership—a demand which, if it continues to grow for a short space at the present rate, cannot, and must not, be denied.

Where Hearst Got His Strength

TWO causes contributed largely to the remarkable vote polled in New York by Mr. Hearst—dislike of the regular party organization and lavish promises by the candidate. Behind McClellan, who is personally the sort of man New Yorkers like to see in the mayor's office, were Tammany and Murphy. Behind Ivins, though disavowed by him, were Odell and the Republican machine.

While Tammany has taken to heart the lesson of the last few years and has adopted less offensive methods, the question Jerome kept asking of its wealthy boss, "Where did he get it?" represented a prevalent feeling. The suspicion of any sort of graft aroused popular indignation. This resentment was displayed, too, against the Republican machine, which has long been suspected of working the Albany end of an alliance with Tammany.

A conservative professional man voiced the sentiment of a great multitude of voters when he said to a correspondent: "We're mad clear through at the grafting bosses and we're going to kick the table over even if we have to vote for Hearst to do it."

While the editor-candidate thus profited by the discontent of intelligent citizens, he made a wide appeal among the poor by his unstinted promises. If they should elect him they were to get their gas for 55 cents instead of 90 and their street car rides for 3 cents instead of 5. The thousands who were fortunate enough to be employed by the city were to have their wages raised. Undoubtedly large numbers of people on the east side voted for Hearst in the firm belief that his election would be worth many dollars a year to each poor family. The discontent with Murphy and Odell and the expectation of a better living were the considerations that gave its phenomenal strength to the Hearst movement. The editor's personality was a less important factor than either of these.—Utah State Journal.

Demonetization of Gold

MR. ALEXANDER DELMAR, writing in the Bankers' Magazine says that ten years ago the production of gold was $500,000 a day, that today it is $1,000,000, and that within ten years it will be $2,000,000.

This brings into consideration the old gag about the demonetization of gold and the rehabilitation of silver as a standard of value. But is it entirely a joke? Stranger things have happened.

It would be a funny thing, however, to see Grover Cleveland, for instance, leading a crusade for the annihilation of gold as a money metal and shouting himself black in the face, pleading for the substitution of silver as the only honest money.

But for the protection of our reputation for sanity we must say we really do not expect to see anything so startling. Not this week, anyhow.

COLLEGE life has now evidently come to be the same thing that Gen Sherman said war is.

Light Socialistic Vote

THE very light vote cast by the Socialists in the recent municipal elections was something remarkable, considering the claims and expectation of that party. One reason, probably, was that the municipal ownership issue was before the people, and had its champions among the candidates of the older parties. So far as municipal ownership of public utilities is concerned, and government ownership of railroads and telegraphs, the Democratic party will carry out the desires of the people in these regards. And every individual who understands that political progress is accomplished step by step will have the discernment to vote the Democratic ticket in order to achieve these ends, rather than to waste his ammunition through the medium of a party that desires to accomplish everything at once.

IF all the States of the Union follow the example of Missouri, Mr. McCall's insurance company will at last be compelled to do business under cover like the Honduras lottery.
